
Industrialized countries
Developing countries
Multi-national Company
Consumers
Resellers, dealers
Processing, Value-added services
Subsidiary companies
Numerous shortlived subsidiary networks
Special advisors
ex-intelligence, mercenaries
"Concessions"
Blind-eye
Direct-assistance
Natural Resources
timber, minerals, fuels, water, etc
Money laundering
Excessive transport
Ownership changes
Bribes
Arms-delivery
Exclusive contracts
Local officials
law enforcement, military, politicians and bureaucrats Side-effects, such as road construction, conflicts, habitat destruction Exploitation