29b 4 gendergraps from FAO.pdf 2008-01-03 15:17:24

Women quantify lack of control over work resources

A survey of women farmers in Uganda revealed that they exercise little control over the resources with which they work. These results are typical of participatory rural appraisal surveys conducted in farming communities across the developing world.

SOURCE: FAO

IAASTD/Ketill Berger, UNEP/GRID-Arendal